How did the Fund perform last year and what affected its performance?

Investment performance of the Fund is judged against the performance of certain market indexes. For this Fund, performance is compared to a broad-based securities market index (the "Regulatory Index") known as the Morningstar® Developed Markets ex-US All Cap Target Market Exposure Index℠, which is composed of large, mid, and small cap stocks trading in international developed markets. The Fund's performance is also compared to an additional index (the "Additional Index") known as the Morningstar® Developed Markets ex-US Value Target Market Exposure Index℠, which is designed to measure the performance of value stocks within the large and mid-capitalization segments of the international developed markets. The Additional Index is closer in scope to the universe of securities that could be chosen within the Fund. The market indexes are unmanaged and do not involve fees and expenses like the Fund.

For the fiscal year ended June 30, 2026, the Fund had a net return of 28.93%, compared to a return of 27.47% for the Fund's Additional Index. The Fund outperformed the Additional Index during the fiscal year by 1.46% after deducting the Fund's net operating expenses for the year. During the fiscal year the Fund maintained a larger position than the Additional Index in the stocks of companies whose ratio of price-to-book-value were among the lowest in the Additional Index (known as "deeper value stocks"), while the Fund had less weight than the Additional Index in stocks with higher ratios of price-to-book-value. During the fiscal year, returns on deeper value stocks were stronger, on average, than the returns of the other stocks in the Additional Index with higher ratios of price-to-book-value, hence the Fund's greater allocation to deeper value stocks contributed to the Fund outperforming the Additional Index for the fiscal year.
